REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first two volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III is in course of preparation, and will contain the letters D, E, F, and G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.*

a day for the hearing thereof, and cause notice of the application and of the date fixed for the hearing—

(a) to be served in the manner directed in the Code of Civil Procedure on— XIV of 1882.

(i) the parents of the minor if they are residing in British India,

(ii) the person, if any, named in the petition or letter as having the custody or possession of the person or property of the minor,

(iii) the person proposed in the application or letter to be appointed or declared guardian, unless that person is himself the applicant, and

(iv) any other person to whom, in the opinion of the Court, special notice of the application should be given; and

(b) to be posted on some conspicuous part of the court-house, and of the residence of the minor, and otherwise published in such manner as the Court, subject to any rules made by the High Court under this Act, thinks fit.

(2) The Local Government may, by general or special order, require that, when any part of the property described in a petition under section 10, sub-section (1), is land of which a Court of Wards could assume the superintendence, the Court shall also cause a notice as aforesaid to be served on the Collector in whose district the minor ordinarily resides, and on every Collector in whose district any portion of the land is situate, and the Collector may cause the notice to be published in any manner he deems fit.

(3) No charge shall be made by the Court or the Collector for the service or publication of any notice served or published under sub-section (2).

Power to make interlocutory order for production of minor and interim protection of person and property.

12. (1) The Court may direct that the person, if any, having the custody of the minor shall produce him or cause him to be produced at such place and time and before such person as it appoints, and may make such order for the temporary custody and protection of the person or property of the minor as it thinks proper.

(2) If the minor is a female who ought not to be compelled to appear in public, the direction under sub-section (1) for her production shall require her to be produced in accordance with the customs and manners of the country.

(3) Nothing in this section shall authorise—

(a) the Court to place a female minor in the temporary custody of a person claiming to be her guardian on the ground of his being her husband, unless she is already in his custody with the consent of her parents, if any, or

(b) any person to whom the temporary custody and protection of the property of a minor is entrusted to dispossess otherwise than by due course of law any person in possession of any of the property.

Hearing of evidence before making of order.

13. On the day fixed for the hearing of the application, or as soon afterwards as may be, the Court shall hear such evidence as may be adduced in support of or in opposition to the application.

Simultaneous proceedings in different Courts.

14. (1) If proceedings for the appointment or declaration of a guardian of a minor are taken in more Courts than one, each of those Courts shall, on being apprised of the proceedings in the other Court or Courts, stay the proceedings before itself.

(2) If the Courts are both or all subordinate to the same High Court, they shall report the case to the High Court, and the High Court shall determine in which of the Courts the proceedings with respect to the appointment or declaration of a guardian of the minor shall be had.

(3) In any other case in which proceedings are stayed under sub-section (1), the Courts shall report the case through the Local Government to the Governor General in Council, and the Governor General in Council shall determine in which of the Courts the proceedings with respect to the appointment or declaration of a guardian of the minor shall be had.

Appointment or declaration of several guardians.

15. (1) If the law to which the minor is subject admits of his having two or more joint guardians of his person or property, or both, the Court may, if it thinks fit, appoint or declare them.

(2) On the death of a father, being an European British subject, who has, by will or other instrument to take effect on his death, appointed a guardian of his minor child, the Court may appoint the mother to be guardian of the child jointly with the guardian appointed by the father.

(3) On the death of a mother, being an European British subject, who during the incapacity of the father of her minor child has, by will or other instrument to take effect on her death, appointed a guardian of the child, the Court may, if the father becomes capable of acting, appoint him to be sole guardian of the child or guardian of the child jointly with the guardian appointed by the mother, as it thinks fit.

The Guardians and Wards Act, 1890.

(Chapter II.—Appointment and Declaration of Guardians.—Sections 16-19.)

Chapter III.—Duties, Rights and Liabilities of Guardians.—Sections 20-22.)

(4) Separate guardians may be appointed or declared of the person and of the property of a minor.

(5) If a minor has several properties, the Court may, if it thinks fit, appoint or declare a separate guardian for any one or more of the properties.

Appointment or declaration of guardian for property beyond jurisdiction of the Court.

16. If the Court appoints or declares a guardian for any property situate beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction, the Court having jurisdiction in the place where the property is situate shall, on production of a certified copy of the order appointing or declaring the guardian, accept him as duly appointed or declared and give effect to the order.

Matters to be considered by the Court in appointing guardian.

17. (1) In appointing or declaring the guardian of a minor the Court shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be guided by what, consistently with the law to which the minor is subject, appears in the circumstances to be for the welfare of the minor.

(2) In considering what will be for the welfare of the minor, the Court shall have regard to the age, sex and religion of the minor, the character and capacity of the proposed guardian and his nearness of kin to the minor, the wishes, if any, of a deceased parent, and any existing or previous relations of the proposed guardian with the minor or his property.

(3) If the minor is old enough to form an intelligent preference, the Court may consider that preference.

(4) As between parents who are European British subjects adversely claiming the guardianship of the person, neither parent is entitled to it as of right, but, other things being equal, if the minor is a male of tender years or a female, the minor should be given to the mother, and if the minor is a male of an age to require education and preparation for labour and business, then to the father.

(5) The Court shall not appoint or declare any person to be a guardian against his will.

Appointment or declaration of Collector in virtue of office.

18. Where a Collector is appointed or declared by the Court in virtue of his office to be guardian of the person or property, or both, of a minor, the order appointing or declaring him shall be deemed to authorise and require the person for the time being holding the office to act as guardian of the minor with respect to his person or property, or both, as the case may be.

Guardian not to be appointed by the Court in certain cases.

19. Nothing in this Chapter shall authorise the Court to appoint or declare a guardian of the property of a minor whose property is under the superintendence of a Court of Wards, or to appoint or declare a guardian of the person—

(a) of a minor who is a married female and whose husband is not, in the opinion of the Court, unfit to be guardian of her person, or,

(b) subject to the provisions of this Act with respect to European British subjects, of a minor whose father is living and is not, in the opinion of the Court, unfit to be guardian of the person of the minor, or

(c) of a minor whose property is under the superintendence of a Court of Wards competent to appoint a guardian of the person of the minor.

CHAPTER III.

DUTIES, RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF GUARDIANS.

General.

Fiduciary relation of guardian to ward.

20. (1) A guardian stands in a fiduciary relation to his ward, and, save as provided by the will or other instrument, if any, by which he was appointed, or by this Act, he must not make any profit out of his office.

(2) The fiduciary relation of a guardian to his ward extends to and affects purchases by the guardian of the property of the ward, and by the ward of the property of the guardian, immediately or soon after the ward has ceased to be a minor, and generally all transactions between them while the influence of the guardian still lasts or is recent.

Capacity of minors to act as guardians.

21. A minor is incompetent to act as guardian of any minor except his own wife or child or, where he is the managing member of an undivided Hindu family, the wife or child of another minor member of that family.

Remuneration of guardian.

22. (1) A guardian appointed or declared by the Court shall be entitled to such allowance, if any, as the Court thinks fit for his care and pains in the execution of his duties.

(2) When an officer of the Government, as such officer, is so appointed or declared to be guardian, such fees shall be paid to the Government out of the property of the ward as the Local Government, by general or special order, directs.

The Guardians and Wards Act, 1890.

(Chapter III.—Duties, Rights and Liabilities of Guardians.—Sections 23-31.)

Control of Collector as guardian.

23. A Collector appointed or declared by the Court to be guardian of the person or property, or both, of a minor shall, in all matters connected with the guardianship of his ward, be subject to the control of the Local Government or of such authority as that Government, by notification in the official Gazette, appoints in this behalf.

Guardian of the Person.

Duties of guardian of the person.

24. A guardian of the person of a ward is charged with the custody of the ward, and must look to his support, health and education, and such other matters as the law to which the ward is subject requires.

Title of guardian to custody of ward.

25. (1) If a ward leaves or is removed from the custody of a guardian of his person, the Court, if it is of opinion that it will be for the welfare of the ward to return to the custody of his guardian, may make an order for his return, and for the purpose of enforcing the order may cause the ward to be arrested and to be delivered into the custody of the guardian.

(2) For the purpose of arresting the ward, the Court may exercise the power conferred on a Magistrate of the first class by section 100 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882.

(3) The residence of a ward against the will of his guardian with a person who is not his guardian does not of itself terminate the guardianship.

Removal of ward from jurisdiction.

26. (1) A guardian of the person appointed or declared by the Court, unless he is the Collector or is a guardian appointed by will or other instrument, shall not, without the leave of the Court by which he was appointed or declared, remove the ward from the limits of its jurisdiction except for such purposes as may be prescribed.

(2) The leave granted by the Court under sub-section (1) may be special or general, and may be defined by the order granting it.

Guardian of Property.

Duties of guardian of property.

27. A guardian of the property of a ward is bound to deal therewith as carefully as a man of ordinary prudence would deal with it if it were his own, and, subject to the provisions of this Chapter, he may do all acts which are reasonable and proper for the realisation, protection or benefit of the property.

Powers of testamentary guardian.

28. Where a guardian has been appointed by will or other instrument, his power to mortgage or charge, or transfer by sale, gift, exchange or otherwise, immoveable property belonging to his ward is subject to any restriction which may be imposed by the instrument, unless he has under this Act been declared guardian and the Court which made the declaration permits him by an order in writing, notwithstanding the restriction, to dispose of any immoveable property specified in the order in a manner permitted by the order.

Limitation of powers of guardian of property appointed or declared by the Court.

29. Where a person other than a Collector, or than a guardian appointed by will or other instrument, has been appointed or declared by the Court to be guardian of the property of a ward, he shall not, without the previous permission of the Court,—

(a) mortgage or charge, or transfer by sale, gift, exchange or otherwise, any part of the immoveable property of his ward, or

(b) lease any part of that property for a term exceeding five years or for any term extending more than one year beyond the date on which the ward will cease to be a minor.

Voidability of transfers made in contravention of section 28 or section 29.

30. A disposal of immoveable property by a guardian in contravention of either of the two last foregoing sections is voidable at the instance of any other person affected thereby.

Practice with respect to permitting transfers under section 29.

31. (1) Permission to the guardian to do any of the acts mentioned in section 29 shall not be granted by the Court except in case of necessity or for an evident advantage to the ward.

(2) The order granting the permission shall recite the necessity or advantage, as the case may be, describe the property with respect to which the act permitted is to be done, and specify such conditions, if any, as the Court may see fit to attach to the permission; and it shall be recorded, dated and signed by the Judge of the Court with his own hand, or, when from any cause he is prevented from recording the order with his own hand, shall be taken down in writing from his dictation and be dated and signed by him.

(3) The Court may in its discretion attach to the permission the following among other conditions, namely:—

(a) that a sale shall not be completed without the sanction of the Court;

The Guardians and Wards Act, 1890.

(Chapter III.—Duties, Rights and Liabilities of Guardians.—Sections 32-35.)

(b) that a sale shall be made to the highest bidder by public auction, before the Court or some person specially appointed by the Court for that purpose, at a time and place to be specified by the Court, after such proclamation of the intended sale as the Court, subject to any rules made under this Act by the High Court, directs;

(c) that a lease shall not be made in consideration of a premium or shall be made for such term of years and subject to such rents and covenants as the Court directs;

(d) that the whole or any part of the proceeds of the act permitted shall be paid into the Court by the guardian, to be disbursed therefrom or to be invested by the Court on prescribed securities or to be otherwise disposed of as the Court directs.

(4) Before granting permission to a guardian to do an act mentioned in section 29, the Court may cause notice of the application for the permission to be given to any relative or friend of the ward who should, in its opinion, receive notice thereof, and shall hear and record the statement of any person who appears in opposition to the application.

Variation of powers of guardian of property appointed or declared by the Court.

32. Where a guardian of the property of a ward has been appointed or declared by the Court and such guardian is not the Collector, the Court may, from time to time, by order, define, restrict or extend his powers with respect to the property of the ward in such manner and to such extent as it may consider to be for the advantage of the ward and consistent with the law to which the ward is subject.

Right of guardian so appointed or declared to apply to the Court for opinion in management of property of ward.

33. (1) A guardian appointed or declared by the Court may apply by petition to the Court which appointed or declared him for its opinion, advice or direction on any present question respecting the management or administration of the property of his ward.

(2) If the Court considers the question to be proper for summary disposal, it shall cause a copy of the petition to be served on, and the hearing thereof may be attended by, such of the persons interested in the application as the Court thinks fit.

(3) The guardian stating in good faith the facts in the petition and acting upon the opinion, advice or direction given by the Court shall be deemed, so far as regards his own responsibility, to have performed his duty as guardian in the subject-matter of the application.

Obligations on guardian of property appointed or declared by the Court.

34. Where a guardian of the property of a ward has been appointed or declared by the Court and such guardian is not the Collector, he shall,—

(a) if so required by the Court, give a bond, as nearly as may be in the prescribed form, to the Judge of the Court to enure for the benefit of the Judge for the time being, with or without sureties, as may be prescribed, engaging duly to account for what he may receive in respect of the property of the ward;

(b) if so required by the Court, deliver to the Court, within six months from the date of his appointment or declaration by the Court, or within such other time as the Court directs, a statement of the immoveable property belonging to the ward, of the money and other moveable property which he has received on behalf of the ward up to the date of delivering the statement, and of the debts due on that date to or from the ward;

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall, so far as they relate to a suit against a guardian, be subject to the provisions of section 440 of the Code of Civil Procedure as amended by this Act.

General liability of guardian as trustee.

37. Nothing in either of the two last foregoing sections shall be construed to deprive a ward or his representative of any remedy against his guardian, or the representative of the guardian, which, not being expressly provided in either of those sections, any other beneficiary or his representative would have against his trustee or the representative of the trustee.

Termination of Guardianship.

Right of survivorship among joint guardians.

38. On the death of one of two or more joint guardians, the guardianship continues to the survivor or survivors until a further appointment is made by the Court.

(a) for abuse of his trust;

(b) for continued failure to perform the duties of his trust;

(c) for incapacity to perform the duties of his trust;

(d) for ill-treatment, or neglect to take proper care, of his ward;

(e) for contumacious disregard of any provision of this Act or of any order of the Court;

(f) for conviction of an offence implying, in the opinion of the Court, a defect of character which unfits him to be the guardian of his ward;

(g) for having an interest adverse to the faithful performance of his duties;

(h) for ceasing to reside within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court;

(i) in the case of a guardian of the property, for bankruptcy or insolvency;

(j) by reason of the guardianship of the guardian ceasing, or being liable to cease, under the law to which the minor is subject:

Provided that a guardian appointed by will or other instrument, whether he has been declared under this Act or not, shall not be removed—

(a) for the cause mentioned in clause (g) unless the adverse interest accrued after the death of the person who appointed him, or it is shown that that person made and maintained the appointment in ignorance of the existence of the adverse interest, or

(b) for the cause mentioned in clause (h) unless such guardian has taken up such a residence as, in the opinion of the Court, renders it impracticable for him to discharge the functions of guardian.

Discharge of guardian.

40. (1) If a guardian appointed or declared by the Court desires to resign his office, he may apply to the Court to be discharged.

(2) If the Court finds that there is sufficient reason for the application, it shall discharge him, and, if the guardian making the application is the Collector and the Local Government approves of his applying to be discharged, the Court shall in any case discharge him.

Cessation of authority of guardian.

41. (1) The powers of a guardian of the person cease—

(a) by his death, removal or discharge;

(c) by the ward ceasing to be a minor;

(e) in the case of a ward whose father was unfit to be guardian of the person of the ward, by the father ceasing to be so or, if the father was deemed by the Court to be so unfit, by his ceasing to be so in the opinion of the Court.

(2) The powers of a guardian of the property cease—

(a) by his death, removal or discharge;

(b) by the Court of Wards assuming superintendence of the property of the ward; or

(c) by the ward ceasing to be a minor.

The Guardians and Wards Act, 1890.

(Chapter III.—Duties, Rights and Liabilities of Guardians.—Section 42. Chapter IV.—Supplemental Provisions.—Sections 43-45.)

(3) When for any cause the powers of a guardian cease, the Court may require him or, if he is dead, his representative to deliver as it directs any property in his possession or control belonging to the ward or any accounts in his possession or control relating to any past or present property of the ward.

(4) When he has delivered the property or accounts as required by the Court, the Court may declare him to be discharged from his liabilities save as regards any fraud which may subsequently be discovered.

Appointment of successor to guardian dead, discharged or removed.

42. When a guardian appointed or declared by the Court is discharged, or, under the law to which the ward is subject, ceases to be entitled to act, or when any such guardian or a guardian appointed by will or other instrument is removed or dies, the Court, of its own motion or on application under Chapter II, may, if the ward is still a minor, appoint or declare another guardian of his person or property, or both, as the case may be.

(3) Except where it appears that the object of making an order under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) would be defeated by the delay, the Court shall, before making the order, direct notice of the application therefor or of the intention of the Court to make it, as the case may be, to be given, in a case under sub-section (1), to the guardian or, in a case under sub-section (2), to the guardian who has not made the application.

8. A railway administration may, for the purpose of exercising the powers conferred upon it by this Act, alter the position of any pipe for the supply of gas, water or compressed air or the position of any electric wire or of any drain not being a main drain:

Provided that—

(a) when the railway administration desires to alter the position of any such pipe, wire or drain it shall give reasonable notice of its intention to do so, and of the time at which it will begin to do so, to the local authority or company having control over the pipe, wire or drain, or, when the pipe, wire or drain is not under the control of a local authority or company, to the person under whose control the pipe, wire or drain is;

(b) a local authority, company or person receiving notice under proviso (a) may send a person to superintend the work, and the railway administration shall execute the work to the reasonable satisfaction of the person so sent and shall make arrangements for continuing during the execution of the work the supply of gas, water, compressed air or electricity or the maintenance of the drainage, as the case may be.

Temporary entry upon land for repairing or preventing accident.

9. (1) The Governor General in Council may authorise any railway administration, in case of any slip or other accident happening or being apprehended to any cutting, embankment or other work under the control of the railway administration, to enter upon any lands adjoining its railway for the purpose of repairing or preventing the accident, and to do all such works as may be necessary for the purpose.

(2) In case of necessity the railway administration may enter upon the lands and do the works aforesaid without having obtained the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, but in such a case shall, within seventy-two hours after such entry, make a report to the Governor General in Council, specifying the nature of the accident or apprehended accident, and of the works necessary to be done, and the power conferred on the railway administration by this sub-section shall cease and determine if the Governor General in Council, after considering the report, considers that the exercise of the power is not necessary for the public safety.

Payment of compensation for damage caused by lawful exercise of powers under section 7, 8 or 9.

10. (1) A railway administration shall do as little damage as possible in the exercise of the powers conferred by any of the three last foregoing sections, and compensation shall be paid for any damage caused by the exercise thereof.

(2) A suit shall not lie to recover such compensation, but in case of dispute the amount thereof shall, on application to the Collector, be determined and paid in accordance, so far as may be, with the provisions of sections 11 to 15, both inclusive, and sections 18 to 42, both inclusive, of the Land-acquisition Act, 1870, and the provisions of sections 57 and 58 of that Act shall apply to the award of compensation.

X of 1870.

Accommodation works.

11. (1) A railway administration shall make and maintain the following works for the accommodation of the owners and occupiers of lands adjoining the railway, namely:—

(a) such and so many convenient crossings, bridges, arches, culverts and passages over, under or by the sides of, or leading to or from, the railway as may, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, be necessary for the purpose of making good any interruptions caused by the railway to the use of the lands through which the railway is made, and

(b) all necessary arches, tunnels, culverts, drains, watercourses or other passages, over or under or by the sides of the railway, of such dimensions as will, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, be sufficient at all times to convey water as freely from or to the lands lying near or affected by the railway as before the making of the railway, or as nearly so as may be.

(2) Subject to the other provisions of this Act, the works specified in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) shall be made during or immediately after the laying out or formation of the railway over the lands traversed thereby and in such manner as to cause as little damage or inconvenience as possible to persons interested in the lands or affected by the works.

(3) The foregoing provisions of this section are subject to the following provisos, namely:—

(a) a railway administration shall not be required to make any accommodation works in such a manner as would prevent or obstruct the working or using of the railway, or to make any accommodation works with respect to which the owners and occupiers of the lands have agreed to receive and have been paid compensation in consideration of their not requiring the works to be made;

(b) save as hereinafter in this Chapter provided, a railway administration shall not, except on the requisition of the Governor General in Council, be compelled to defray the cost of executing any further or additional accommodation works for the use of the owners or occupiers of the lands after the expiration of ten years from the date on which the railway passing through the lands was first opened for public traffic;

(c) where a railway administration has provided suitable accommodation for the crossing of a road or stream, and the road or stream is afterwards diverted by the act or neglect of the person having the control thereof, the administration shall not be compelled to provide other accommodation for the crossing of the road or stream.

(4) The Governor General in Council may appoint a time for the commencement of any work to be executed under sub-section (1), and if for fourteen days next after that time the railway administration fails to commence the work or, having commenced it, fails to proceed diligently to execute it in a sufficient manner, the Governor General in Council may execute it and recover from the railway administration the cost incurred by him in the execution thereof.

Power for owner, occupier or local authority to cause additional accommodation works to be made.

12. If an owner or occupier of any land affected by a railway considers the works made under the last foregoing section to be insufficient for the commodious use of the land, or if the Local Government or a local authority desires to construct a public road or other work across, under or over a railway, he or it, as the case may be, may at any time require the railway administration to make at his or its expense, such further accommodation works as he or it thinks necessary and are agreed to by the railway administration or as, in case of difference of opinion, may be authorised by the Governor General in Council.

Fences, screens, gates and bars.

13. The Governor General in Council may require that, within a time to be specified in the requisition or within such further time as he may appoint in this behalf,—

(a) boundary-marks or fences be provided or renewed by a railway administration for a railway or any part thereof and for roads constructed in connection therewith;

(b) any works in the nature of a screen near to or adjoining the side of any public road constructed before the making of a railway be provided or renewed by a railway administration for the purpose of preventing danger to passengers on the road by reason of horses or other animals being frightened by the sight or noise of the rolling-stock moving on the railway;

(c) suitable gates, chains, bars, stiles or hand-rails be erected or renewed by a railway administration at places where a railway crosses a public road on the level;

(d) persons be employed by a railway administration to open and shut such gates, chains or bars.

Over and under bridges.

14. (1) Where a railway administration has constructed a railway across a public road on the level, the Governor General in Council may at any time, if it appears to him necessary for the public safety, require the railway administration, within such time as he thinks fit, to carry the road either under or over the railway by means of a bridge or arch, with convenient ascents and descents and other convenient approaches, instead of crossing the road on the level, or to execute such other works as, in the circumstances of the case, may appear to the Governor General in Council to be best adapted for removing or diminishing the danger arising from the level-crossing.

(2) The Governor General in Council may require, as a condition of making a requisition under sub-section (1), that the local authority, if any, which maintains the road shall undertake to pay the whole of the cost to the railway administration of complying with the requisition or such portion of the cost as the Governor General in Council thinks just.

Removal of trees dangerous to or obstructing the working of a railway.

15. (1) In either of the following cases, namely:—

(a) where there is danger that a tree standing near a railway may fall on the railway so as to obstruct traffic,

(b) when a tree obstructs the view of any fixed signal, the railway administration may, with the permission of any Magistrate, fell the tree or deal with it in such other manner as will in the opinion of the railway administration avert the danger or remove the obstruction, as the case may be.

The Indian Railways Act, 1890.

(Chapter IV.—Opening of Railways.—Sections 16-19.)

(2) In case of emergency the power mentioned in sub-section (1) may be exercised by a railway administration without the permission of a Magistrate.

(3) Where a tree felled or otherwise dealt with under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) was in existence before the railway was constructed or the signal was fixed, any Magistrate may, upon the application of the persons interested in the tree, award to those persons such compensation as he thinks reasonable.

(4) Such an award, subject, where made in a presidency-town by any Magistrate other than the Chief Presidency Magistrate or where made elsewhere by any Magistrate other than the District Magistrate, to revision by the Chief Presidency Magistrate or the District Magistrate, as the case may be, shall be final.

(5) A Civil Court shall not entertain a suit to recover compensation for any tree felled or otherwise dealt with under this section.

CHAPTER IV.

OPENING OF RAILWAYS.

Right to use locomotives.

16. (1) A railway administration may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, use upon a railway locomotive engines or other motive power, and rolling-stock to be drawn or propelled thereby.

(2) But rolling-stock shall not be moved upon a railway by steam or other motive power until such general rules for the railway as may be deemed to be necessary have been made, sanctioned and published under this Act.

Notice of intended opening of a railway.

17. (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), a railway administration shall, one month at least before it intends to open any railway for the public carriage of passengers, give to the Governor General in Council notice in writing of its intention.

(2) The Governor General in Council may in any case, if he thinks fit, reduce the period of, or dispense with, the notice mentioned in sub-section (1).

Sanction of the Government a condition precedent to the opening of a railway.

18. A railway shall not be opened for the public carriage of passengers until the Governor General in Council, or an Inspector empowered by the Governor General in Council in this behalf, has by order sanctioned the opening thereof for that purpose.

Procedure in sanctioning the opening of a railway.

19. (1) The sanction of the Governor General in Council under the last foregoing section shall not be given until an Inspector has, after inspection of the railway, reported in writing to the Governor General in Council—

(a) that he has made a careful inspection of the railway and rolling-stock;

(b) that the moving and fixed dimensions prescribed by the Governor General in Council have not been infringed;

(c) that the weight of rails, strength of bridges, general structural character of the works, and the size of and maximum gross load upon the axles of any rolling-stock are such as have been prescribed by the Governor General in Council;

(d) that the railway is sufficiently supplied with rolling-stock;

(e) that general rules for the working of the railway when opened for the public carriage of passengers have been made, sanctioned and published under this Act; and

(f) that, in his opinion, the railway can be opened for the public carriage of passengers without danger to the public using it.

(2) If in the opinion of the Inspector the railway cannot be so opened without danger to the public using it, he shall state that opinion together with the grounds therefor to the Governor General in Council, and the Governor General in Council may thereupon order the railway administration to postpone the opening of the railway.

(3) An order under the last foregoing sub-section must set forth the requirements to be complied with as a condition precedent to the opening of the railway being sanctioned, and shall direct the postponement of the opening of the railway until those requirements have been complied with or the Governor General in Council is otherwise satisfied that the railway can be opened without danger to the public using it.

(4) The sanction given under this section may be either absolute or subject to such conditions as the Governor General in Council thinks necessary for the safety of the public.

(5) When sanction for the opening of a railway is given subject to conditions and the railway administration fails to fulfil those conditions, the sanction shall be deemed to be void and the railway shall not be worked or used until the conditions are fulfilled to the satisfaction of the Governor General in Council.

The Indian Railways Act, 1890.

(Chapter IV.—Opening of Railways.—Sections 20-26.)

20. (1) The provisions of sections 17, 18 and 19 with respect to the opening of a railway shall extend to the opening of the works mentioned in sub-section (2) when those works form part of, or are directly connected with, a railway used for the public carriage of passengers and have been constructed after the inspection which preceded the first opening of the railway.

(2) The works referred to in sub-section (1) are additional lines of railway, deviation lines, stations, junctions and crossings on the level, and any alteration or re-construction materially affecting the structural character of any work to which the provisions of sections 17, 18 and 19 apply or are extended by this section.

Exceptional provision.

21. When an accident has occurred resulting in a temporary suspension of traffic, and either the original line and works have been rapidly restored to their original standard, or a temporary diversion has been laid for the purpose of restoring communication, the original line and works so restored, or the temporary diversion, as the case may be, may, in the absence of the Inspector, be opened for the public carriage of passengers, subject to the following conditions, namely :—

(a) that the railway servant in charge of the works undertaken by reason of the accident has certified in writing that the opening of the restored line and works, or of the temporary diversion, will not in his opinion be attended with danger to the public using the line and works or the diversion ; and

(b) that notice by telegraph of the opening of the line and works or the diversion shall be sent, as soon as may be, to the Inspector appointed for the railway.

Power to make rules with respect to the opening of railways.

22. The Governor General in Council may make rules defining the cases in which, and in those cases the extent to which, the procedure prescribed in sections 17 to 20 (both inclusive) may be dispensed with.

Power to close an opened railway.

23. (1) When, after inspecting any open railway used for the public carriage of passengers, or any rolling-stock used thereon, an Inspector is of opinion that the use of the railway or of any specified rolling-stock will be attended with danger to the public using it, he shall state that opinion, together with the grounds therefor, to the Governor General in Council; and the Governor General in Council may thereupon order that the railway be closed for the public carriage of passengers, or that the use of the rolling-stock so specified be discontinued, or that the railway or the rolling-stock so specified be used for the public carriage of passengers on such conditions only as the Governor General in Council may consider necessary for the safety of the public.

(2) An order under sub-section (1) must set forth the grounds on which it is founded.

Re-opening of a closed railway.

24. (1) When a railway has been closed under the last foregoing section, it shall not be re-opened for the public carriage of passengers until it has been inspected, and its re-opening sanctioned, in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(2) When the Governor General in Council has ordered under the last foregoing section that the use of any specified rolling-stock be discontinued, that rolling-stock shall not be used until an Inspector has reported that it is fit for use and the Governor General in Council has sanctioned its use.

(3) When the Governor General in Council has imposed under the last foregoing section any conditions with respect to the use of any railway or rolling-stock, those conditions shall be observed until they are withdrawn by the Governor General in Council.

Delegation of powers under this Chapter to Inspectors.

25. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, authorise the discharge of any of his functions under this Chapter by an Inspector, and may cancel any sanction or order given by an Inspector discharging any such function or attach thereto any condition which the Governor General in Council might have imposed if the sanction or order had been given by himself.

(2) A cooнition imposed under sub-section (1) shall for all the purposes of this Act have the same effect as if it were attached to a sanction or order given by the Governor General in Council.

Traffic Facilities.

Duty of railway administrations to arrange for receiving and forwarding traffic without unreasonable delay and without partiality.

42. (1) Every railway administration shall, according to its powers, afford all reasonable facilities for the receiving, forwarding and delivering of traffic upon and from the several railways belonging to or worked by it and for the return of rolling-stock.

(2) A railway administration shall not make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to or in favour of any particular person or railway administration, or any particular description of traffic, in any respect whatsoever, or subject any particular person or railway administration or any particular description of traffic to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever.

(3) A railway administration having or working railways which form part of a continuous line of railway communication, or having its terminus or station within one mile of the terminus or station of another railway administration, shall afford all due and reasonable facilities for receiving and forwarding by one of such railways all the traffic arriving by the other at such terminus or station, without any unreasonable delay, and without any such preference or advantage or prejudice or disadvantage as aforesaid, and so that no obstruction may be offered to the public desirous of using such railways as a continuous line of communication, and so that all reasonable accommodation may by means of such railways be at all times afforded to the public in that behalf.

The Indian Railways Act, 1890.

(Chapter V.—Railway Commissions and Traffic Facilities.—Sections 42-44.)

(4) The facilities to be afforded under this section shall include the due and reasonable receiving, forwarding and delivering by every railway administration, at the request of any other railway administration, of through traffic to and from the railway of any other railway administration at through rates :

Provided as follows :—

(a) the railway administration requiring the traffic to be forwarded shall give written notice of the proposed through rate to each forwarding railway administration, stating both its amount and its apportionment and the route by which the traffic is proposed to be forwarded. The proposed through rate for animals or goods may be per truck or per maund ;

(b) each forwarding railway administration shall, within the prescribed period after the receipt of such notice, by written notice inform the railway administration requiring the traffic to be forwarded whether it agrees to the rate, apportionment and route, and, if it has any objection, what the grounds of the objection are ;

(c) if at the expiration of the prescribed period no such objection has been sent by any forwarding railway administration, the rate shall come into operation at the expiration of that period ;

(d) if an objection to the rate, apportionment or route has been sent within the prescribed period, the Governor General in Council may, if he thinks fit, on the request of any of the railway administrations, refer the case to the Commissioners for their decision ;

(e) if the objection is to the granting of the rate or to the route, the Commissioners shall consider whether the granting of the rate is a due and reasonable facility in the interests of the public, and whether, regard being had to the circumstances, the route proposed is a reasonable route, and shall allow or refuse the rate accordingly or fix such other rate as may seem to the Commissioners to be just and reasonable :

(f) if the objection is only to the apportionment of the rate, and the case has been referred to the Commissioners, the rate shall come into operation at the expiration of the prescribed period, but the decision of the Commissioners as to its apportionment shall be retrospective : in the case of any other objection the operation of the rate shall be suspended until the Commissioners make their order in the case ;

(g) the Commissioners in apportioning the through rate shall take into consideration all the circumstances of the case, including any special expense incurred in respect of the construction, maintenance or working of the route or any part of the route, as well as any special charges which any railway administration is entitled to make in respect thereof ;

(h) the Commissioners shall not in any case compel any railway administration to accept lower mileage rates than the mileage rates which the administration may for the time being legally be charging for like traffic carried by a like mode of transit on any other line of communication between the same points, being the points of departure and arrival of the through route ;

(i) subject to the foregoing provisions of this sub-section, the Commissioners shall have full power to decide that any proposed through rate is due and reasonable, notwithstanding that a less amount may be allotted to any forwarding railway administration out of the through rate than the maximum rate which the railway administration is entitled to charge, and to allow and apportion the through rate accordingly ;

(j) the prescribed period mentioned in this sub-section shall be one month, or such longer period as the Governor General in Council may by general or special order prescribe.

Undue preference in case of unequal rates for like traffic or services.

43. (1) Whenever it is shown that a railway administration charges one trader or class of traders or the traders in any local area lower rates for the same or similar animals or goods, or lower rates for the same or similar services, than it charges to other traders or classes of traders, or to the traders in another local area, the burden of proving that such lower charge does not amount to an undue preference shall lie on the railway administration.

(2) In deciding whether a lower charge does or does not amount to an undue preference, the Commissioners may, so far as they think reasonable, in addition to any other considerations affecting the case, take into consideration whether such lower charge is necessary for the purpose of securing, in the interests of the public, the traffic in respect of which it is made.

Provision for facilities and equal treatment where ships or boats are used which are not part of a railway.

44. Where a railway administration is a party to an agreement for procuring the traffic of the railway to be carried on any inland water by any ferry, ship, boat or raft

The Indian Railways Act, 1890.

(Chapter V.—Railway Commissions and Traffic Facilities.—Sections 45-46. Chapter VI.—Working of Railways.—Sections 47-48.)

which does not belong to or is not hired or worked by the railway administration, the provisions of the two last foregoing sections applicable to a railway shall extend to the ferry, ship, boat or raft in so far as it is used for the purposes of the traffic of the railway.

Terminals.

45. A railway administration may charge reasonable terminals.

Power of Railway Commission to fix terminals.

46. (1) The Governor General in Council may, if he thinks fit, refer to the Commissioners for decision any question or dispute which may arise with respect to the terminals charged by a railway administration, and the Commissioners may thereupon decide what is a reasonable sum to be paid to the railway administration in respect of terminals.

(2) In deciding the question or dispute the Commissioners shall have regard only to the expenditure reasonably necessary to provide the accommodation in respect of which the terminals are charged, irrespective of the outlay which may have been actually incurred by the railway administration in providing that accommodation.

CHAPTER VI.

WORKING OF RAILWAYS.

General.

General rules.

47. (1) Every railway company and, in the case of a railway administered by the Government, an officer to be appointed by the Governor General in Council in this behalf, shall make general rules consistent with this Act for the following purposes, namely :—

(a) for regulating the mode in which, and the speed at which, rolling-stock used on the railway is to be moved or propelled ;

(b) for providing for the accommodation and convenience of passengers and regulating the carriage of their luggage ;

(c) for declaring what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of this Act, dangerous or offensive goods, and for regulating the carriage of such goods ;

(d) for regulating the conditions on which the railway administration will carry passengers suffering from infectious or contagious disorders, and providing for the disinfection of carriages which have been used by such passengers ;

(e) for regulating the conduct of the railway servants ;

(f) for regulating the terms and conditions on which the railway administration will warehouse or retain goods at any station on behalf of the consignee or owner ; and,

(g) generally, for regulating the travelling upon, and the use, working and management of, the railway.

(2) The rules may provide that any person committing a breach of any of them shall be punished with fine which may extend to any sum not exceeding fifty rupees, and that, in the case of a rule made under clause (e) of sub-section (1), the railway servant shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one month's pay, which sum may be deducted by the railway administration from his pay.

(3) A rule made under this section shall not take effect until it has received the sanction of the Governor General in Council and been published in the Gazette of India :

Provided that, where the rule is in the terms of a rule which has already been published at length in the Gazette of India, a notification in that Gazette referring to the rule already published and announcing the adoption thereof shall be deemed a publication of a rule in the Gazette of India within the meaning of this sub-section.

(4) The Governor General in Council may cancel any rule made under this section, and the authority required by sub-section (1) to make rules thereunder may at any time, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, rescind or vary any such rule.

(5) Every rule purporting to have been made for any railway under section 8 of the Indian Railway Act, 1879, and appearing from the Gazette of India to be intended to apply to the railway at the commencement of this Act, shall, notwithstanding any irregularity in the making or publication of the rule, be deemed to have been made and to have taken effect under this section.

(6) Every railway administration shall keep at each station on its railway a copy of the general rules for the time being in force under this section on the railway, and shall allow any person to inspect it free of charge at all reasonable times.

Disposal of differences between railways regarding conduct of joint traffic.

48. S. HARVEY JAMES,

IV G

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present rate of duty on imported spirit is R5 a gallon of the strength of London proof. It is proposed in the present Bill to raise the rate of duty to R6 a gallon. In some Provinces the rates of duty on country spirit have been raised so high that, if any further increase is made, such spirit will be unfairly handicapped in comparison with imported spirit paying a duty of R5 a gallon. It is the policy of the Government of India to impose as high a duty on country spirit as it will bear; and it has therefore become necessary to raise the duty on imported spirit, in order to permit of the duty being raised on country spirit. It is also considered desirable to discourage the import of cheap and deleterious European spirit; while imported spirit of a better class can, it is believed, bear a higher rate of duty without rendering the price of it prohibitive to the classes which use it.

It is necessary to raise the rate of duty on perfumed spirit from R7-8 a gallon to R8 when the duty on ordinary spirit is raised as above proposed.

It is estimated that the proposed increase of duty will add nine lakhs of rupees yearly to the public revenue.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ... The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number ... are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past ... stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 21st of March 1890.

CALCUTTA, the 25th March 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 21st OF MARCH 1890.

The period of unsettled weather, which included the greater part of the preceding week, continued during the present one, the thunderstorms accompanied by showers being most frequent in the early part of the week in the southern districts. The disturbed conditions gradually passed eastwards, and while scattered storms with light rain occurred in most of the districts, frequent showers were reported from East Bengal only during the last few days. At first there was generally low pressure, which became intensified in North Bengal in the middle of the week, and though rather large changes were reported, defect continued with a tendency to increase towards the end.

On the 15th, the first day of the week, there was a rather diffused low-pressure area overlying the greater part of Bengal, and deepening towards the foot of the hills Strong winds, generally southerly in direction, were blowing in the north-west corner of the Bay and at most of the inland stations, while temperature changes, as well as the distribution relative to the normal, were somewhat irregular. On the 16th the fall of pressure, which had been going on for some days, ceased and was followed by a general rise, very rapid in North Bengal but diminishing towards the south, till in South Bengal it was only two or three-hundredths of an inch. The centre of the diffused low-pressure area was then near Bhagulpore, and the wind circulation tended towards that point, being southerly in the lower districts, east in North Bengal, and from south-west to north-west in Behar. The difference from normal pressure was very uniform, exceeding a tenth of an inch in South Bengal and along the west coast of the Bay, while it was very little less over the rest of the province. During these two days thunderstorms were numerous in Orissa and East Bengal, accompanied by heavy showers in the former, but as a rule giving only light falls in the latter. From the 16th rain almost entirely ceased in Orissa, there being only a few scattered showers in the Balasore district during the remainder of the week. On the 17th pressure again began to fall very rapidly in Chutia Nagpur, Behar, and the northern half of South-West Bengal. The depression was more distinct, having its centre still near Bhagulpore with a similar wind circulation, except that the velocity, which had begun to fall off on the previous day, again increased. Temperature was rising and was from one to three degrees in excess. The only rainfall on this day was in East Bengal, where, however, it was more heavy and general than before. On the 18th pressure increased about a twentieth of an inch in the centre of the province, the depression partially filling up, but wind directions remained unchanged. Temperature changed irregularly, falling in North Bengal and Behar, and rising four to five degrees in East Bengal, where there were again light showers of rain. On the 20th there was a similar increase of pressure preceded by small irregular changes on the 19th and followed by a rapid fall on the 21st. During these three days defect in pressure generally ranged from a twentieth to a tenth of an inch, and the indraught towards the centre of the province continued. Rain showers were very light and scattered except on Thursday, the 20th, in South-West and East Bengal. Temperature continued to rise, and by the end of the week was from two to five degrees in excess of the normal.

Pressure—Has been subject to large and frequent changes, but has been considerably below the normal throughout the whole week. The largest defect was slightly over a tenth of an inch in South-West Bengal, and the lowest eight-hundredths of an inch in part of South-West and East Bengal.

Temperature—Has been generally rising, and the means at the different stations are all in excess by amounts ranging up to four degrees. The excess in the means for North Bengal and South Behar is over 2° and for the other districts over 1° excepting Orissa, where it is 0·6°. The highest observed during the week was 98·4° in South Behar, and the lowest 54·9° in North Behar.

The actual temperatures during the week, the range from day to night, and their variation from the normals, are seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts in the province are given together with their normal values:—

Rainfall.—As stated above, almost all the rain that has fallen during the week has been in Orissa and East Bengal: in the former during the first two days, but continuing in the latter till the end, the only day when frequent showers were not received there being Wednesday. The days when showers were most numerous in East Bengal were Tuesday and Thursday, but the falls were generally under half an inch, though some reported more than an inch and-a-half. The averages for Orissa, East Bengal, and North Bengal are above the normal, East Bengal having received 1·6 inches, nearly three times the normal amount for the week, Orissa 0·95 inch, and North Bengal 0·27 inch. In the other districts the falls have been very scanty, under a tenth of an inch in all, while in North Behar no rain whatever has fallen.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 21st of March 1890:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The rules will be taken into consideration on the expiry of one month after their first publication in the Gazette, and the Local Government will receive and consider any suggestions or observations that may be made concerning them before the expiry of that period.

OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL, BENGAL;
BOOK DEPARTMENT,
The 1*st April* 1890.

E. T. ATKINSON,
Accountant-General.

NOTIFICATION.

The 31st March 1890.—The following report of the Bruce Institution for the year 1889 is published for general information.

P. NOLAN,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE BRUCE INSTITUTION.

I. Control.—During the year under review the Revd. James Lillie was appointed under rule 10 to be a Governor, vice the Revd. G. W. Manson, resigned. Sir Alfred Croft proceeded to Europe on three months' leave, and in his absence Mr. C. H. Tawney, C.I.E., Officiating Director of Public Instruction, officiated as Honorary Secretary to the Governors. At the close of the year the following members, nominated by the Hon'ble High Court, retired from the governing body by effluxion of time under rule 8:—

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Beverley.
Very Revd. E. Lafont, S.J., C.I.E.
Mr. W. H. Ryland.
Revd. R. Robinson.

The first three gentlemen have been re-appointed by the Government of Bengal for a further term of three years. Mr. Robinson, who expressed a desire to withdraw from the governing body, has been succeeded by the Revd. F. W. Warne.

II. Capital and Income.—The capital of the Institution has been increased, by the further investment of Rs. 7,500, to Rs. 6,67,500. The amount is held by the Comptroller General in stock notes, yielding an annual net interest of Rs. 26,620.

III. Election.—The annual election was held in the month of August. For the fourteen vacancies advertised ninety-four applications were received. The election of fourteen children as foundationers was, as usual, made by the Governors on the report of a Sub-Committee. One foundationer was, on the application of her mother, transferred from the Calcutta Free School, where she had been for the past two years, to the Loretto Convent School, Entally; one in the Calcutta Girls' School was withdrawn from the foundation, as it was ascertained that her mother's income was sufficient to enable her to educate her child without help; and two more, one in the Loretto Convent School, Entally, and the other in the Pratt Memorial School, were withdrawn by their guardians.

At the close of the year there were 97 girls on the foundation, distributed among the various schools as follows:—

Loretto Convent School, Entally	48
Calcutta Free School	21
St. Paul's Mission School	2
Pratt Memorial School	12
Doveton Institution for Young Ladies	2
Protestant European Orphanage for Girls, Cuttack	3
St. Joseph's Convent School, Cuttack	2
Calcutta Girls' School	7
Total ...	97

The following table gives particulars of the class and religion of the girls on the foundation:—

CLASS.	Roman Catholics.	Church of England.	Non-Conformists.	Total.
I.—Orphans or deserted by their parents ...	21	13	......	34
II.—Fatherless, or deserted by their father, or father incapable.	27	26	6	59
III.—Cases of extreme poverty	2	1	1	4
Total ...	50	40	7	97

IV. Education and Maintenance.—The average monthly cost of the education and maintenance of each girl on the foundation amounted to Rs. 15-6-7, or 12 annas 5 pies less than in the preceding year. The total amount paid under the head of "Education and Maintenance" was Rs. 17,940, or Rs. 2,418 above that of the previous year.

V. Inspection.—The Ven'ble Archdeacon F. R. Michell and the Revd. R. Robinson were appointed visiting Governors for the year. Their reports were uniformly satisfactory. Good accounts have also been generally received from the school authorities with regard to the conduct, application and attendance of the foundationers.

The Revd. R Robinson, in his report, states that he was particularly pleased with the Loretto Convent School at Entally, where order, tidiness and cleanliness mark all the appointments, and where the children are systematically trained to help themselves in respect of most of those domestic arrangements which elsewhere necessitate the employment of servants. He adds that these remarks also apply to the Calcutta Free School.

VI. Meetings.—Five meetings were held during the year, and among the matters discussed the following may be noted:—

1. Recognition of St Joseph's Convent School at Cuttack as suitable for the education and maintenance of Bruce foundationers under rule 39 of the scheme.

2. The selection of cheaper schools for the education and maintenance of Bruce foundationers.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first two volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III is in course of preparation, and will contain the letters D, E, F, and G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 2 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half-morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

 No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, [dew] dew, = fog.

* Means of six days

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last [illegible] humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by [illegible] and an overcast sky by 10. The number are [illegible] numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past stat[illegible] in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 28th of March 1890.

CALCUTTA, the 1st April 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 28TH OF MARCH 1890.

THE meteorology of the present week has been chiefly noteworthy for the very dry weather which has prevailed over the whole province, and consequently the high and steadily increasing temperature The low-pressure area, which has been over Bengal for some time, has still continued, there being a uniform large defect, not so pronounced as in the previous week, but at a large majority of stations averaging a tenth of an inch, while at some it was considerably more, and only in the western parts sensibly under a tenth of an inch.

On Saturday, the 22nd, the first day of the week, pressure fell rapidly in North Bengal and slowly elsewhere, the lowest pressure being near Dinagepur. Wind directions were generally from south to west, but velocity was nowhere above the average. Very high temperature prevailed over a large area in the centre of the province, including a large part of South-West and East Bengal, the eastern half of Behar, and as far north as Purneah. The largest amounts in excess of the normal were over 6° at Bhagulpur, Dinagepur, and Maldah, but all round the boundary there was either normal temperature or very slight excess. There had been a rapid rise during the previous twenty-four hours in North Bengal, and a rapid fall in the west of Behar. Pressure fell on the 23rd and rose on the 24th by about equal amounts, so that by the end of the latter day the distribution was similar to that of the 22nd. The wind circulation remained unchanged, while temperature changed irregularly, but continued high. With the exception of a very few light showers in Orissa and East Bengal at the beginning of the week, these three days had been rainless. On the 25th pressure again fell with moderate rapidity, but after that a steady rise set in and lasted till the end of the week. Only one or two stations in East Bengal reported light showers on the 26th, but elsewhere no rain fell. Temperature fell slowly on the last two days, but there was still a large excess.

Pressure—As stated above, has been uniformly very low, especially over an area extending from the centre of the province northwards over North Bengal. The largest defects have been in Purneah and Julpigoree, averaging for the week in these districts nearly 0·15 inch. In East Bengal defect has generally been over a tenth of an inch, and in the other districts very little under a tenth except in Chutia Nagpur, where it has been about seven-hundredths of an inch.

Temperature—As shown in the table below, has been largely in excess during both day and night. At Cuttack, Burdwan, and Darjeeling maximum temperature has been from 3·5° to 4·5° above the normal, and at all the representative stations given in the table the minimum temperature has been from 1° to 4° above. The only station where there has been defect during the day is Gya, but there the relatively highest night temperatures have been reported.

Excess in the means for the large divisions ranges from 1·2° to 3·6°, South-West, East and North Bengal and South Behar all being over 3°, and the others under 2°.

The actual temperatures during the week the range from day to night, and their variation from the normals, are seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts in the province are given together with their normal values :—

Rainfall—Has been very scanty, four of the divisions, viz , South-West Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur being entirely rainless, while in Orissa only the fall has exceeded a tenth of an inch. The few showers reported fell during the first two days of the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 28th of March 1890 :—

MEMORANDUM.

THE deaths registered during the month of January 1890 in 45 districts in Bengal were 124,642, or at the rate of 22·68 per 1,000 among a population of 65,859,534, in opposition to 184,528, or 33 60 per 1,000 in the preceding month, 125,953, or 22·92 per 1,000 in January 1889, and an average of 128,224, or 23·28 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of past five years 1885-89. In comparison with the preceding month (December) there was a large decrease of mortality, amounting to 10·92 per 1,000, but in contrast with the mortality of January 1889 and the average of the corresponding month of the past five years 1885-89 there was a deduction of ·24 and ·60 per 1,000 respectively.

2. The following districts returned the highest proportions of deaths. For comparison the mortality in the same districts during the corresponding month of 1889 is also shown :—

3. The following table compares the mortality of January 1890 from the undermentioned registered death-causes with that of the corresponding month of the previous year, and the average rate of the corresponding months of the past five years 1885-89 :—

	Ratio per mille during— January 1890.	January 1889.	Mean of previous five years, 1885-89.
Cholera	1·92	·96	1·56
Small-pox	·10	·10	·08
Fever	16·08	16·80	17·16
Bowel-complaints	·72	·72	·84
Injury	·12	·12	·12
Other causes	3·48	3·84	3·36

It will be seen that the death-rate of January 1890, under the head cholera, is twice as great as that of January 1889, but only a little higher than the average rate of the five years 1885-89. Under the head fever, there was a noticeable reduction in January 1890 as compared with the average rate of the past five years. The mortality under the other heads was pretty much the same as in corresponding past periods.

4. The following table shows the districts in which the death-rates from cholera, fever and the maladies coming under the head "Other causes" were highest :—

2. In all matters not expressly provided for by these rules, the rules, forms, registers and returns prescribed in the Civil Account Code, or in force for the time being, under the orders of Government or other competent authority, shall, in so far as they are consistent with these rules and with the Act, apply to the accounts of the District Board, and shall be observed, used, kept and submitted by the officer appointed under section 54 of the Act.

GENERAL.

4. All the accounts and registers of the District Board shall be kept in English. All books of accounts and registers shall be substantially bound and paged before being brought into use, and no accounts shall be prepared on loose sheets of paper or in loosely bound volumes.

5. All corrections and alterations in accounts shall be neatly made in red ink and attested by the initials of the Chairman. All corrections and alterations in a voucher shall be attested by the payee. Erasures shall on no account be permitted in registers, statements, vouchers or accounts of any description.

6. No expenditure shall be incurred for which provision has not been made in the budget estimate for the year, or in a supplementary budget estimate, or which has not been duly sanctioned by the District Board, or by the Chairman or other executive officer of the Board acting in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by the Act or the rules made under the Act.

7. The Chairman shall cause to be kept a register of establishment in Form No. I showing in respect of all establishments whatsoever employed by the District Board the particulars specified in the form. A separate page or section shall be allotted to each class of establishment. All changes made by competent authority from time to time in the numbers, nomenclature, or salaries of the establishment shall be immediately entered in the register, with the number and date of the orders authorising the change. This register is not intended to show officiating appointments, and no entries relating to these should therefore be made.

8. Every employé of the District Board shall be required to keep a service-book in the form prescribed for uncovenanted servants of Government, and all entries made therein shall be renewed or attested by the Chairman at least once every five years.

9. The Chairman shall promptly report to the Accountant-General, Bengal, and the Commissioner of the Division, through the Magistrate of the District, if he is not the Chairman, the occurrence of any embezzlement or irregularity in the accounts of the District Board which may come to his notice, and shall observe the rules and procedure prescribed for reporting embezzlements and irregularities occurring in Government offices.

BUDGET ESTIMATES.

10. The Collector of the district shall, on or before the 1st September in each year, prepare and transmit to the District Board an estimate of the balance of the District Road Fund to be transferred to the credit of the District Fund during the financial year next ensuing under section 52, clause (1) of the Act.

11. A budget estimate in Form No. II showing the probable receipts and expenditure of the District Fund under all heads during the ensuing financial year shall be prepared by the Finance Committee constituted under section 55 of the Act, and shall be laid before the District Board at a meeting to be held not later than the 1st October in each year.

12. The budget estimate shall set forth estimated receipts and expenditure under major and minor heads, of account only; and shall be accompanied by a schedule in Form No. III for each major head, in which shall be entered full details of the estimated receipts and expenditure under that head, working up to the totals shown under that head in the budget estimate.

13. The budget estimate and schedules shall show (1) the actual receipts and expenditure for the latest year for which the accounts have been closed; (2) the sanctioned estimate, the revised estimate, and six months' actuals for the year then current; and (3) the probable receipts and expenditure for the ensuing financial year.

14. In entering the details of receipts and expenditure in the schedule for each major head, the same forms and the same degree of particularity shall be observed as are prescribed for District Budget estimate under the orders of Government, the Accountant-General, Bengal, or other competent authority. In preparing the schedule for Public Works under the control and administration of the District Board, the rules and forms prescribed for the budget estimates of District Road Committees under the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880 shall be observed.

15. The budget estimate and schedules shall be accompanied by explanatory notes, explaining any new and important item of receipt of expenditure, and when any new charge requires the sanction of superior authority, by a copy of the order of sanction.

16. The District Board shall never, except with the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor exhaust or exceed its balance in the treasury; and the budget estimates shall be framed so as to provide for an adequate working balance throughout the year, and for an adequate closing balance. The Commissioner shall decide what constitutes an adequate working and closing balance, and his decision shall be final.

17. No change shall be made in the major or minor account headings prescribed by Government, and the same account headings shall be used in all accounts and returns prepared or submitted by the District Board.

The minor heads of account may be sub-divided in the Cash Abstract registers as may be found convenient, but all statements and returns shall be compiled by totals of minor heads.

18. In preparing the budget estimate, attention shall be given to the following points:—

(a) What is expected to be paid (under proper sanction) during the year shall be provided for, not the liability falling due within the year.

(b) For fixed charges the detailed estimate shall show the full amount of the sanctioned scale; when it is found by experience that a saving will arise from any cause, a lump deduction may be made.

(c) The number of employés shall be carefully stated in the detailed estimates and checked; the rate of pay shall be stated, wherever possible, in order to admit of verification of the column of charge.

19. The District Board may at any time, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, transfer grants from one major head of account to another, and from one minor head to another minor head subordinate to the same major head; provided that the total budget grant is not thereby exceeded.

20. If at any time during the year the District Board has reason to believe that the budget under any head is likely to be exceeded, and that the excess cannot be met by a reduction under some other head, a supplementary budget estimate shall be prepared with the least possible delay, and submitted through the Magistrate for the orders of the Commissioner in the manner prescribed in sections 47 to 49 of the Act.

If the Board has reason to suppose the receipts under any head are likely to fall materially short of the budget estimate, a revised budget estimate shall be prepared with the least possible delay, and submitted as above for the orders of the Commissioner.

TRANSACTIONS WITH THE TREASURY.

21. The District Fund shall be lodged with the Collector of the district, who shall keep a separate account thereof.

22. The District Board shall not appropriate towards expenditure any moneys received by its servants; but all such moneys shall be remitted by the Board's servants direct to the treasury at once, and shall not be paid in through the medium of the District Board's office.

23. All money paid into the treasury to the credit of the District Fund, whether by servants of the District Board or others, shall be accompanied by a challan in Form No. IV. This challan shall be in triplicate, having the words "Original," "Duplicate" and "Triplicate" printed or written in red on the first, second and third parts respectively. The first part shall be retained by the treasury office, the second part shall be sent to the office of the District Board whenever the pass-book is returned, and the third part shall be delivered to the person paying in the money.

24. All moneys remitted to the treasury to credit of the District Board, and all payments made by the treasury on cheques or otherwise on account of the District Board shall be entered in a pass-book; the pass-book shall remain in the custody of the Chairman, and it shall be sent to the treasury with every remittance, and also on the last working day of every month. On receipt of the pass-book by the treasury officials, the entry of the remittance made (if any) shall be initialled by the treasury officer, and then the charged side shall be written up to date, and the book returned at once to the office of the District Board.

The pass-book will be supplied by the treasury. It is not a District Fund account book, but is simply a copy of the account kept in the treasury of the money paid in to the credit of, and disbursed on account of, the District Board, and must therefore always be written up only by the Government Treasury Department, by whom the original account is kept.

25. No entries or marks shall, under any circumstances, be made in the pass-book by any one connected with the District Board's office.

26. At the close of each month the balance in the pass-book shall be struck, the amount written in words, and signed by the Treasury Officer.

27. The Chairman shall examine the pass-book from time to time, and shall immediately call the attention of the Treasury Officer to any discrepancy that may appear between the credits and debits shown in the pass-book, and those shown in the accounts of the District Board's office.

28. When a grant is made to the District Fund from Provincial revenues, either as a general grant-in-aid, or for expenditure on any specific object, the Chairman shall apply to the Treasury Officer to credit the amount of the grant to the District Fund, forwarding a copy of the orders of Government sanctioning the same; and the Treasury Officer shall, on receipt of instructions from the Accountant-General, place the amount of the grant to credit of the District Fund. The credit shall be made by book transfer; no bill or cheque shall be drawn, and no money shall be paid out of the treasury.

29. On the last working day of each month, the balance of the road cess collections of the month, after deducting from the amount received on account of "cess on land" the charges for collections, shall be transferred to credit of the District Fund, and entered in the pass-book in the following details:—

	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Total Road Cess on lands
Deduct charges for collections, &c., incurred during the month, less the proportion of the charges payable by Government for Public Works cess
Cess on mines and railways
Interest on arrear collections of Road Cess
Total ...

30. The Treasury Officer shall supply the Chairman, immediately after the close of each month, with a balance certificate in the following form:—

Abstract of District Fund Account for the month of in the Treasury of

	Rs. A. P.		Rs. A. P.
1. Balance brought forward from last month ..		4. Debited in cash account of this month ...
2. Credited in cash account of this month ...		5. Other debits, as per Accountant-General's No. , dated ...
3. Other credits, as per Accountant-General's No. , dated ...		6. Balance at end of month ...
GRAND TOTAL ...		GRAND TOTAL ...

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.

31. For the payment of petty charges, the Chairman shall hold a permanent advance of such amount as the District Board may fix from time to time; provided that without the sanction of the Commissioner, the District Board shall not fix the amount of the permanent advance at more than Rs. 100.

32. The permanent advance shall be recouped as often as may be necessary, and in the manner prescribed for the recoupment of the permanent advance of the District Magistrate and Collector; provided that the cash for the recoupment of the permanent advance shall be drawn from the treasury by cheque.

33. Payments of not more than Rs. 20 shall be made from the permanent advance; provided that no charge on account of the salary of any employé of the District Board shall be made otherwise than as prescribed in Rules 34 and 38.

34. All payments exceeding Rs. 20 shall be made by cheque, unless there are special circumstances rendering payments in cash desirable; provided that all payments of sums above Rs 10 on account of salaries of employés of the District Board shall be made by cheque.

35. Cheque-books will be supplied by the Treasury Officer only, and no other form shall be used. Cheque-books and the counterfoils of used cheques shall be kept in the custody of the Chairman.

36. Cheques for sums not exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed by the Vice-Chairman, or, in his absence, by the Chairman, or, if both be absent, by a member of the Finance Committee. Cheques for sums exceeding Rs. 100 shall be signed both by the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman. If the Chairman or Vice-Chairman is absent or is from any cause incapacitated from signing the cheque, it shall be signed by a member of the Finance Committee for the Chairman or Vice-Chairman as the case may be.

37. No cheque shall be signed unless required for immediate delivery to the person to whom the money is to be paid.

38. Every cheque shall be drawn in English in favour of the person to whom the money is actually due. Payment shall not be made to any other person except on production of a written authority from the creditor to receive it on his behalf. This rule does not apply to cheques issued for a sum of money distributable as pay or wages among a number of District Fund employés, or for recouping the permanent advance, or for payment to a postmaster for a money-order or money-orders issued for payment of stipends or rewards to gurus.

39. The amount of every cheque shall be written in words as well as in figures, both on the cheque itself and on the counterfoil, and the counterfoil shall be initialled by the person or persons who sign the cheque. The word "only" shall always be inserted after the amount written in words in the body of the cheque.

40. Every cheque drawn for a sum in excess of Rs. 20 shall bear a receipt stamp of the value of one anna, and such receipt stamp shall be affixed before the cheque is signed.

41. When a signed cheque is cancelled, it shall be stamped "cancelled" by the Chairman. The cancelled cheque shall be destroyed as soon as the accounts for the month in which the cheque was drawn have been audited. The amount of the cancelled cheque shall be entered as a receipt on the debtor side of the cash-book (Form No. V), and shall be treated as a refund. (See Rules 57 and 58.)

42. Every bill or other claim for payment from the District Fund shall be presented in the first instance to the Accountant, who shall check and examine it, and if it be found correct and in order shall submit it for orders to the Chairman. If payment of the bill so presented is to be made, an order for the payment shall be endorsed upon it. The order for payment shall run as follows:—"Pay Rupees only (Rs.)," the amount being written in words as well as in figures, and shall be signed by the Chairman.

43. If payment is to be made from the permanent advance, the Chairman shall first cause the bill to be stamped with the words "Paid in cash," and shall then sign an order for payment across the bill and pay the money from the permanent advance.

44. If payment is to be made by cheque, the Chairman shall cause the bill to be endorsed with the words "paid by cheque No. ," and shall then sign the endorsement and cause the cheque to be drawn out, signed and issued. Whenever necessary and convenient to the treasury, cheques issued from the District Board's office may be enfaced at the district treasury for payment at a sub-treasury. In all such cases the cheque with the contractor's certificate or bill shall be sent from the District Board's office to the Chairman of the Local Board, where there is a Local Board, or to the Sub-divisional Officer in charge of the sub-treasury concerned for delivery to the payee, an advice under registered cover being sent at the same time to the payee. On delivery of the cheque, the contractor will sign the receipt on the certificate or bill form, and the Chairman of the Local Board, or Sub-divisional Officer will return the bill direct to the District Board's Office.

45. When any payment is made, either by cheque or in cash from the permanent advance, it shall be immediately entered in the accounts of the District Board. In the former case, it shall be entered in the cash-book (Form No. V). In the latter case, it shall be entered in the permanent advance account (Form No. XVI).

46. Every payment made, either in cash or by cheque, shall be covered by a receipt, stamped if necessary, signed by the person to whom the money is due, and to whom it has actually been paid. A receipt signed by another person for the creditor, or with a stamp, is invalid.

47. All bills and vouchers that have been paid by cheque shall be numbered consecutively for the year in order of payment, and shall be pasted in a guard book.

CASH-BOOK.

48. The District Fund cash-book shall be kept in Form No. V. The receipt entries in this book shall be made direct from the pass-book in the case of amounts credited direct to the Fund by the Collector of the district. In the case of other receipts the cash-book shall be posted as soon as any money is received in the District Board's office by means of money-order irrespective of whether the money is immediately remitted to the treasury or not.

Expenditure shall be entered day by day as cheques are issued (See also Rule 45).

49. The cash-book shall be closed and balanced once a month and shall be signed by the Chairman. In the event of any cheques issued during a month remaining uncashed by the treasury at close of the month, there will necessarily be a difference between the balance brought out in the cash-book and that of the treasury pass-book, and of the certificate issued by the Treasury Officer under Rule 30. This difference shall be explained by a note in the last page of the cash-book for the month in the following manner:—

		Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.

PERMANENT ADVANCE.

50. When the permanent advance is drawn for the first time, or is subsequently recouped, the amount so drawn or recouped shall be charged off at once in the cash-book as soon as the cheque is issued. The amounts so drawn shall be debited to the head "Advances," and posted in the advance ledger (Form No. VIII), and shall remain at the personal debit of the Chairman till they are repaid or accounted for.

51. The Chairman shall make payments from his permanent advance from time to time as may be required. Each bill or voucher so paid shall be stamped "Paid in cash," and every payment shall be entered in both the foil and counterfoil of Form No. XVI.

When it becomes necessary to recoup the permanent advance, the Chairman shall compare the bills and vouchers with the entries in Form No. XVI, shall deface them by stamping them "cancelled," so that they cannot be used again, shall note on the counterfoil of Form No. XVI, "recouped by voucher No. , dated ," and shall enface the foil for payment of the sum expended and draw a cheque for the amount.

CASH ABSTRACT REGISTER OF RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE.

52. All the entries on the receipt side of the cash-book (Form No. V) shall be posted direct from the cash-book into the cash abstract register of receipts (Form No. VI), and all the entries on the payment side of the cash-book shall be posted into the cash abstract register of expenditure (Form No. VII).

The cash abstract registers shall be posted as frequently as may be convenient, but in no case later than ten days after the close of the month to which the accounts relate.

53. Each item of receipt or payment appearing in the cash-book shall be posted separately into the cash abstract registers. Thus, if there be two or three payments on the same day on account of the same head of expenditure, there will similarly be two or three entries under the same head in the cash abstract register; i.e., the separate items appearing in the cash-book, and not the totals of the daily receipts or expenditure for each head, shall be posted into the cash abstract registers.

54. The columns of the cash abstract register shall be totalled every month, and the totals of the different heads of receipt and expenditure must necessarily be equal to the totals of receipts and payments in the cash-book.

ADJUSTMENTS.

55. At the foot of each month's account in the cash abstract registers of receipts and expenditure (Forms Nos. IX and X) two lines are left blank for the purpose of entering therein, and bringing upon the books of the District Fund, the adjustments made during the month.

56. Adjustments are transactions which have to be recorded in the monthly and annual account of the District Fund, but which are not actual cash transactions, and which therefore do not in all cases appear in the District Fund cash-book.

57. Adjustments are of four kinds—

(1) The transfer from one head to another of items of receipt or expenditure wrongly classified in the first instance in the cash abstract registers.

(2) The transfer of a sum of money from the head "Advances" to a head of expenditure.

(3) Refunds of revenue received or of expenditure incurred during the current year of account.

(4) The debit to a head of expendiure by credit to "Deposits received" of a sum of money due on a contractor's bill, but not paid, being retained as a security deposit for the due execution of future works.

These transactions shall be entered item by item in the register of adjustments (Form No. VIII), whence the totals pass into cash abstract registers of receipts and expenditure.

58. The method of entry in the register of adjustments is as follows.—

(a.) In case (1) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the space for "Adjustments by addition" in the column for the head to which the amount is to be added, and again in red ink in the space for "Adjustments by deduction" in the column for the head from which the amount is to be deducted. Both enries will be made on the receipt side if the amount is to be transferred from one head of revenue to another, and both will be made on the expenditure side if the amount is to be transerred from one head of expenditure to another.

(b.) In case (2) the adjustment shall be made by enteing the amount in the space for "Adjustments by addition" in the column of the expenditre side for the head to which charges on account of the particular expenditure incurred areto be taken, and on the receipt side in the space for "Adjustments by addition" under the bad "Advances recovered." A corresponding entry must of course be made on the receipt or credit side of the advance ledger (Form No. XVII) of the person by whom the expnditure was incurred, and to whom the amount adjusted was originally advanced.

(c.) In case (3) the adjustment shall be made by enterig the amount in the space for "Adjustments by deduction" in the column of the receipt or expenditure side for the head to which the amount refunded was originally credited or debted, and on the expenditure or receipt side in the space for "Adjustments by deduction" in he column for "Refunds."

This procedure, however, shall not be followed when therefund made during the month is on account of revenue received during a previous year of account. In this case, the amount refunded will remain at the debit of the head "Reunds," and no adjustment shall be made.

In every case of refund of revenue a note of the refud shall be made against the original entry of receipt in the cash-book or other register, so as to guard against a second refund of the same amount being accidentally made.

(d.) In case (4), the adjustment shall be made by enteng the amount on the expenditure side in the space for "Adjustments by addition" in thecolumn for the head to which the balance of the charges of the bill from which the deductiohas been made has been taken, and on the receipt side in the spaces for "Adjustments by addition" under "Deposits received."

59. Adjustments made by deduction in the cash abstact registers shall always be exhibited in red ink.

61. At the close of every month a monthly abstract of reipts and charges extracted by totals of minor heads from the registers of monthly reipts and expenditure (Forms Nos. IX and X) shall be prepared by the District Board in Fon No. XII. The memorandum on the first page A of the Form showing the balancof the Fund wili simply be a repetition of the memorandum as explained in Rule 49, in coiection with the cash-book, reconciling the balance of the cash-book with the balance of thpass-book.

64. The quarterly and annual accounts shall be published as provided in the last preceding rule not more than one month after the close of the period to which they respectively relate.

ADVANCES AND DEPOSITS.

65. All moneys advanced to officers or employés of the District Board, or to contractors or other persons (whether on account of the permanent advance or otherwise), shall in the first instance be charged to the head "Advances" in the cash abstract register of expenditure and entered in the advance ledger (Form No. XVII). A separate account shall be opened in this ledger for each person to whom an advance has been given, and this account shall be credited with the amount of payments made, and of adjustments made, in the manner prescribed in the second clause of Rule 58.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E,

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first two volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses, both chemical and industrial; trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributions have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names; so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Volume III is in course of preparation, and will contain the letters D, E, F, and G. The whole work will, it is expected, be completed in six volumes by 1891; but a seventh volume may also be issued consisting of an index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary; and this as a work of reference, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

The price to subscribers will be in India Rs. 30 and in England 3 guineas, payable in advance, for the complete set. An extra charge for packing and postage will be made for the set—in India, at 8 annas per volume, and for England at 2 rupees 6 annas per volume.

For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings respectively will be charged extra for the whole sets.

 No copies will be issued to non-subscribers till the work is complete, and no single volume will be sold separately. The price to non-subscribers will be Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England, exclusive of packing and postage.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1890.

The transition from the cold-weather conditions to those of the hot season in Bengal, which usually commences at the close of February, becomes complete in March. The normal features of the meteorology of March are therefore rapidly increasing temperature, gradually decreasing pressure, a general increase in the air motion, winds becoming westerly at the inland stations and south-westerly at the southern stations, while the northerly component in the wind directions almost disappears except in Behar; the air is also generally very dry, skies are clear, and there is an almost complete absence of rain, unless the normal weather conditions are disturbed by the occurrence of the local storms known as nor'-westers. These storms are believed to be brought about by the interaction of the more or less opposing wind systems which obtain to a certain extent over Bengal in this month, for at the western stations. winds are strongly westerly, at the southern stations strong moist southerly winds usually blow, while easterly winds continue to blow down the Assam Valley, and sometimes penetrate as far as Purneah and Durbhunga. From the nature of the formation of these nor'-westers and their local character, the rainfall brought by them, which is sometimes decidedly heavy, is very irregularly distributed. Occasionally also the normal conditions in March are disturbed by the formation of depressions over Northern India, which extend and travel in a south-easterly direction, and give unsettled weather and perhaps rain to Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and North Bengal, but those barometric depressions are usually less numerous and less influential in character than they are in the previous cold-weather months

By these irregular actions a moderate amount of rain is brought to Bengal during March. The normal rainfall is heaviest in East Bengal, where it averages about 2·8 inches. In South-West Bengal, North Bengal, and Orissa the fall ranges from about one to one-and-a-half inches; in Chutia Nagpur it is rather less than an inch; while in Behar it is rather less than half an inch.

Meteorology of the month.—The main features in the meteorology of March 1890, which has been on the whole rather abnormal in character, have been—

1. The mean pressure over the province of Bengal has been rather largely in defect of the normal, the defect usually ranging from about four to seven-hundredths of an inch. This defect has been fairly equally distributed, but it is actually largest in the northern and north-eastern parts of the province. In Assam also the defect is larger than over Bengal generally, and at Dhubri it amounts to 0·08 inch.

2. The average temperature over Bengal has been in excess of the normal in all districts, and indeed at almost all stations except some close to the hills in North Bengal. The usual excess ranges from about a half to nearly two degrees. In Assam also temperature has been in excess of the normal by about similar amounts.

3. The variations of humidity from the average have not been large, and humidity has been in excess and in defect of the normal at an almost equal number of stations.

4. Cloud proportion has been in excess of the normal by rather considerable amounts at almost all stations in the province at which observations have been taken for a sufficient number of years to yield reliable averages.

5. During March no distinctly-formed or well-marked barometric depressions travelled over Bengal from Northern India, and thus the province was practically free from the second class of disturbances mentioned under the normal meteorology of the month. Generally disturbed conditions, during which rapid and large variations of temperature and pressure occurred, were however prevalent over a considerable part of the province for the first two thirds of the month. These disturbed conditions were not sufficiently intense to produce any very prolonged and general series of the local storms known as nor'-westers in any district, but they only resulted in the formation of rather scattered storms which occurred at irregular intervals. In Behar the few storms which occurred gave rain from about the 4th to the 6th instant; in Chutia Nagpur and South-West Bengal a few showers occurred from the 5th to the 10th instant; in Orissa the showers attending these local storms were more numerous, and they extended up to about the 16th instant; and in East Bengal, as usual, the disturbances extended longer than in other districts, and did not cease until about the 20th; while in North Bengal the number of local storms which occurred was extremely small and, except in a few districts, no rain was received. Speaking generally of the storms of March, it may be said they were more feeble in character than usual

6. The rainfall generally over the province of Bengal has thus been on the whole rather largely in defect of the normal, and the falls in North Behar, North Bengal, South-West Bengal, and South Behar, vary only from about a quarter to one-half the normal amount; in East Bengal the fall has been about two-thirds the usual; while, on the other hand, in Chutia Nagpur the fall has been slightly in excess of the normal. The only district in which the fall has been in distinct or large excess is Orissa, where the amount of rain received has been about twice as large as usual.

The daily meteorology of March in Bengal and Assam does not call for any particular detailed comment. For the first three weeks the main abnormal features were the very rapid and large changes of barometric pressure and of temperature which occurred. In the latter case changes from temperatures of three to five degrees above the normal to from six to ten degrees below it occurred within a period of two or three days at different stations in the province, thus showing abnormally large changes even for March In the case of pressure also the changes were large, in many cases exceeding a tenth of an inch, and in certain cases equalling about a seventh from one day to another; but together with these large daily fluctuations, there was also the steady increase of temperature usual in March, and the establishment of comparatively low pressure. Accompanying these large changes there were also very frequent changes in the wind systems obtaining over Bengal, and to the alternate strengthening of the moist southerly winds and of the dry westerly and north-westerly winds blowing from the interior, which caused the interaction to take place over different districts at different periods, the alteration in the position of formation of the local storms during this period is probably due. During the last ten days of the month, however, these disturbed conditions practically ceased, and a period of very dry hot weather set in. during which the principal feature was the steadily increasing temperature and the establishment of temperature conditions very considerably above the normal. The low pressure which had established itself over Bengal during the earlier part of the month, however, still continued, though it was not so pronounced as it had been, and the winds blowing over the province became those usual during the hot season of the year. The meteorology of the month has therefore been somewhat abnormal, and even up to its close the weather conditions were not entirely normal for the hot season.

Pressure—During the first week of the month was above the normal in all districts, the excess usually ranging from about four to seven-hundredths of an inch. In the second week a decidedly rapid fall had occurred, and pressure had become from eight to twelve-hundredths of an inch in defect of the normal. In the third week the defect still continued, and the largest defects were slightly over a tenth of an inch in South-West Bengal, and the smallest about eight-hundredths of an inch in part of South-West and East Bengal. During the last part of the month pressure continued uniformly low, especially over an area extending from the centre of the province northwards over North Bengal. In the fourth week the largest defects were in Purneah and Julpigoree, where they averaged nearly 0 15 inch, and over the remainder of the province generally the defect averaged nearly a tenth of an inch. For the whole month. therefore, the mean pressure has been in defect of the normal, the usual defect ranging from four to seven hundredths of an inch, and being usually largest in the north and north-east of the province and in Assam

Temperature—Was during the first week of the month rather less than a degree below the normal for the period, the largest defects being registered in North Behar and Chutia Nagpur In the second week the defect had increased slightly, and it averaged one degree. the defect again being large in Chutia Nagpur and also in South-West Bengal In the third week temperature was generally rising rather rapidly, and the average temperature had become in excess of the normal by amounts ranging up to 2·5°; while in the fourth week the mean temperature both during the day and night had become largely in excess of the normal, the excess averaging from about 2° to 4° in most districts. The mean temperature for the whole month has therefore been generally in excess of the normal, the excess ranging from 0·5° in Orissa to 1·3° in North Bengal. In Assam temperature has been slightly below the normal.

The following table will show the principal variations of the day, night and mean temperatures from the normal in each week of the month at nine typical stations in different districts of the province :—

Rainfall.—The heaviest falls of rain during the month have occurred in Orissa, the stations in which have received an average amount of 2·37 inches, which is rather more than twice the usual fall. In East Bengal also an average fall of two inches has been received, but this is very little more than two-thirds the usual fall. Chutia Nagpur has received an average rainfall of one inch, which is slightly in excess of the normal amount. The stations in South-West Bengal have received an average fall of 0·57 inch, which is only about one-third of the usual amount In all other cases the falls are exceedingly small, and average less than a third of an inch, and they are in all cases largely below the normal, the falls generally equalling from a fourth to about one-half the normal falls.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the month of March 1890 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last
The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 4th of April 1890.

CALCUTTA, the 8th April 1890.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 4TH OF APRIL 1890.

DURING the past week very dry weather with fairly high temperature has continued, no rain having fallen at any of the stations in the province. Notwithstanding the absence of rain, temperature, though above the normal for the week, has not been so much in excess as during the previous week, and pressure having been rising slowly but continuously, the large defect, which has been so characteristic a feature for some time, has disappeared, and a slight excess was general in Bengal towards the end of the week. Wind circulation has been almost without change from first to last, south or south-west directions prevailing in the southern districts, westerly in Behar, and easterly or north-easterly in the north-east corner; the last being due to the winds from the Assam valley.

On Saturday, the first day of the week, pressure was about a twentieth of an inch in defect, except in Chutia Nagpur, and temperature from four to six degrees above the normal, the largest excess being 7·8° at Mymensingh. On the following day pressure was slightly in excess in Chutia Nagpur and South Behar, while the defects had diminished elsewhere. The change of pressure on Sunday was from one to two-hundredths of an inch, except in North Bengal and South Behar, where it was from two to three-hundredths. Temperature changed irregularly, but had generally fallen. Similar changes continued during the rest of the week, and from Wednesday, the 2nd of April, pressure was everywhere above the normal by small amounts, while temperature was deficient in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and part of South-West and North Bengal. On Friday, the last day of the week, pressure was in excess by amounts ranging from 0·05 inch to 0·08 inch, and temperature was below the normal in Orissa and Behar, but was only from one to two degrees above in the other districts.

Pressure.—As shown above, has been slowly rising throughout the week, changes being in all cases small except on Friday, when there was a more rapid rise in East and North Bengal. The result of the steady rise is that from being about a twentieth of an inch below, it has become a twentieth of an inch above the normal. The means for the week are very nearly normal, excess being under a hundredth of an inch except in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, where it ranges from two to four-hundredths.

Temperature.—Continues in excess during both night and day, but the night temperatures are relatively lower this week, the difference from the normal at the stations given in the table below being generally between one and two degrees. Maximum temperatures are more irregular, for at Calcutta, Dacca, Purneah, and Darjeeling, mean excess is from 3° to 4° above the normal, but at Cuttack, Burdwan, Patna, and Hazaribagh it is 2° or under. The means for the large divisions of the province are nearly normal in Orissa and Behar, 1° above in Chutia Nagpur, 1·5° in North Bengal, and nearly 3° in South-West and East Bengal.

The actual temperatures during the week, the range from day to night, and their variation from the normals, are seen in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum and mean temperatures at nine typical stations in different districts in the province are given together with their normal values:—

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA ;
The 7th April 1890.

MEMORANDUM.

THE following summary of results has been deduced from the annexed table exhibiting the vital statistics of the principal Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 22nd March 1890:—

1. The ratios per mille of births stood at 22·8 as opposed to 20·9 during the preceding week ending 15th March, and of deaths at 21·5 against very nearly the same proportion, viz., 21·7. There was thus an improvement in the registration of births only.

2. The following Municipalities registered the highest proportions of births and deaths:—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Arrah	56·2	Jessore	61·2
Utterpara	47·2	Midnapore	49·6
Ranaghat	41·9	Poori	48·3
Comillah	38·5	Utterpara	47·2
Santipore	35·0	Serampore	47·1
Poori	33·6	Comillah	42·4
Rampore Beauleah	31·5	Gya	41·0
Monghyr	30·7	Darjiling	37·0
Jessore	30·6	Ranaghat	29·9

3. The mortality from the registered death-causes was as follows, in comparison with that in the preceding week ending 15th March:—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	22nd March 1890.	15th March 1890.
Cholera	2·8	4·2
Small-pox	·9	·7
Fever	9·9	8·3
Bowel-complaints	2·0	2·4
Injury	·4	·3
Other causes	5·4	5·4

The above figures denote chiefly that there was a noticeable decrease in the death-rate from cholera with an increase in that from fever.

4. Of the abovementioned death-causes, cholera, fever, and the maladies returned under the head "Other causes" proved conspicuously fatal in the following Municipalities:—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Comillah	34·7	Jessore	42·8	Midnapore	20·1
Midnapore	18·6	Gya	31·4	Serampore	17·6
Howrah	7·4	Purneah	27·7	Poori	14·7
Dacca	3·9	Rampore Beauleah	26·3
Gya	3·4

The mortality from small-pox in the Poori town, although still high, was below that of the preceding week ending 15th March, viz., 14·7 against 16·8 per 1,000 of population.

5. Under the heads of Sex, Class and Age, the mortality of the week stood as follows:—

According to Sex.	Ratio per mille.	According to Class.	Ratio per mille.	According to Age.	Ratio per mille.
Males	23·7	Christians	14·9	Under 1 year	149·5
